

Approaching the End of Your Lease

- Make sure you are within your contracted mileage allowance
- Call us at least 45 days before turn-in to schedule your complimentary pre-inspection[§]
- Review your pre-inspection wear and use condition report
- Make repairs to reduce end-of-term liability (each tire must have at least 1/8th inch tread at its lowest point)
- Contact your dealer for repairs covered by optional products[‡] purchased through the dealership
- Contact us with repair receipts from authorized repair centers
- Check out the new vehicle lineup and schedule a test drive
- Contact us to request an extension if you need more time

Before Turning in Your Vehicle

- You must contact your originating dealer to schedule your lease return
- Meet your contractual obligations before turning in your vehicle; you may be charged for early turn-in
- Contact your dealer or local DMV for any state license and/or registration requirements
- Prepare your vehicle for turn-in
 - Remove all personal items
 - Turn-in all sets of keys to the vehicle
 - Clear any personal digital information from in-vehicle interfaces
 - Anything that came with your vehicle when you first leased it must be returned to avoid charges (for example: all keys, owner's manuals, cargo covers, removable seats, remotes, headphones, navigation systems/SD cards, spare tires/tools)

Turning in Your Vehicle

- Return your completed Odometer Statement to us
- Contact us with your turn-in details: name/address of the dealer, name of the person who took your keys, the date and time you dropped it off, and the mileage from your Odometer Statement

After Turning in Your Vehicle

- Cancel recurring payments as we cannot stop these on your behalf
- If you receive a lease-end bill, promptly pay any amount due
